Description

I somehow doubt that this will lead to any type of censure, but I turned on a movie (Back to the Future) on ABC Family for my 7 year-old this morning while making breakfast. I came back in to see a promo for another show where they went out of their way to highlight some guest start who would be on the show and the clip of the guest start keyed in on her saying "Don't kiss my ass." While I realize that there have been far worse things said on TV, there's a reason that I don't let my daughter watch shows like South Park. However, it is stunning to me that at 9:36am ET, there is a blatant promo for one of ABC Family's own shows that is on during prime kids tv hours. I am hardly a prude, but it seems that there should be some sort of standards for a show that holds itself out as a "kids" channel from controlling what they run of their own content so early in the morning. i would hope that the FCC has some control over the airwaves.

Description

My friends and I have been noticing the daytime shows in particular seem to be targeting women i.e. Wendy Williams, The Real, TMZ, Dish Nation. Although the cast is full of older, fatter, balder, and more dyed hair than the celebrities they insult. And then they will throw in a young person and overly praise them just for being younger. Anyway the celebrities in there 40's look better then the younger ones. It's about talent not age. And TMZ is the worst, the men talk about the women like objects. When they have nothing but old, fat, bald, bodies with corny humor to bring to the table. As an African american, I am insulted by the two black men who are assigned sale out duty. Ex. One of the men said, he did not like Rihanna dating Decapario because she was going to the other side, meaning white. But, he constantly expresses approval for black males who date white women. What's up with that!

On Dish Nation Al just behaves like a Uncle Tom. They always have him making fun of some black issue so it doesn't appear racist, but it's still racist. He talks as if he's such a stud with women. You're fat and bald dude! join the hat wearing cover up my bald spot crew on TMZ.

Also dish nations has the women acting like some needy self deprecating women.

And one of the women just said her ratchet behavior on reality shows makes her relevant, yeah a fool. What's the point having all this education if at like you don't have any.

Listen, we viewers don't care about the celebrities ages(again it's about talent not age.) Why is age such an issue with the writers, especially towards women. Mariah, J. Lo, etc. get slammed for being in their 40's like that's so old you wouldn't even know they look just as good as the younger ones. But, the one male talk shows did single out was Will Smith for being in his 40's for no good reason he looks better than the younger ones -while, George Clooney (who's older and unattractive) gets praised.

I have spent the whole summer surfing show after show with this same format it's no coincidence. We are sick of Hollywood's agenda. Trying to convince women that something is wrong with them if they have morals and values. Wendy W. even said what are saving it for any way. (BECAUSE REAL LIFE HAS CONSEQUENCES, WENDY!). Then Wendy had the audacity to say that Russell Williams shouldn't be celibate (it's his business, Wendy) every body not trashy like you seems to portray. Wendy was shocked back into reality when she couldn't get the audience to agree with her; digressed and admitted she admired people who don't just follow the crowd. Because Wendy, that's what real life decisions are about.

And also The audience was implying that they had regrets not being more selective or practicing celibacy.

Wendy and Suzanne constantly coerce her audience to agree with her trashy ways. Wendy and other shows spend the whole time pitting women against each other and if you aren't showing every fake body part you bought then you're beige paint and boring.

then she tried to clean up by saying I mean for tv. Since the history of television this value format has been totally successful. So where is this upsurge in meanness and shade coming from. Oh, this whole feud Wendy has going with Mariah K. and I am not a Mariah fan ,but I cannot tolerate Wendy being a huge bully. She's trying to go after her just like she did with Whitney to further her career. Wendy taunts Mariah calling her old and fragile and broken because Nick Cannon is younger. But Wendy ate crow again when Nick found him another older women. (Wendy is older than Mariah. what if we wrote in she was too old to have a talk show)

Women we just simply need to start being nicer to each other everything is not a contest

I see at school and at work, predominantly female profession i.e. teaching and nursing. The females constantly bullying, insulting, and hating on one another. Rejoicing at women who get insulted on these shows, but praising the men for their bad behavior. And if a guy walk by it's like Sadie Hawkins day all the females fight for his attention. Wendy also instructs women to have babies by wealthy men in order to move up the food chain in Hollywood. It doesn't matter if she's just joking its just too low brow. Wendy, as well as, the other shows rarely run men down for their age or bad behavior.

About this single stuff, on valentines day Wendy implied that single people are lonely. Please, we are out here living up having a ball. The married ones are lonely, always trying to tag along with us. I have a relative who says marriage is way overrated. I personally don't care if you are married are not, but it sure seems that some married people have a problem with us single people living our lives to the fullest. Wendy is always talking out of both side of her neck and blaming it on being a women, she can change her mind. Again, why is this women thing, just simply say you changed your mind. And What's really hypocritical, how she tries to act like when black hatred issue comes up she so outraged, but then she'll flip flop. Ex. pretending black rappers shouldn't feel resentment towards the idea of Iggy. Wendy explains, she grew up with all types of races, so did I and racism is still alive and kicking out there. And Wendy again totally way off about the NAACP white women. By the way both of these women have made her eat these words(more crow). The racist comments Iggy said, which Wendy raked Bieber of the coals for a similar issue. saying the the white women did so much for our people what exactly did she do anyway. the point is she was deceitful on her own accord not because she had to be and sources said she also used intimidation and threats to move up the ranks and played both white and black card when ever it was convenient for her.

All these catty shows, contributes and breed hate. Sending the message, they're doing on tv so I can do it too. But, nobody acknowledges the powerful influence tv has and that there are costly consequences. And all this bed hopping, Wendy, saying you just have to watch out for the killer doesn't make any sense either. Like the killer will be stamped on the person's forehead. If Wendy wants to make a living throwing trash don't complain when it's your time to get talked about.

Its coming from Hollywood writers and there agenda of anything goes like there's no consequences. And implying that something is wrong with us if we have values. These reality shows i.e. (Bachelor ,Bachelorette, Survivor), dramas like Grey's Anatomy etc... are a hot mess. Professionals being praised for behaving like idiots. No wonder in real life hospitals are experiences Md's having love triangles and plotting to murder each other on the job, enough of this trash!

And Hollywood's other agenda to push the gay agenda in our faces while implying to viewers we don't have the right to complain about it, so the Christian character is villainized and shamed. Implying Christians need to leave gays alone.

Gays need to leave Christians alone. TMZ, South Park, Kimmel, sitcoms, and soap operas are allowed to publicly mock Jesus Christ on a daily bases. And as far as, religious jokes go, Jews and Muslims are tipped toed around, but Christian are fired on like fish in a barrel. Everyones not gay and we don't have be forced to view it every 5 seconds or have athletes and celebrities be corned into saying they support a gay lifestyle(TMZ style). Just write smart intelligent funny material instead turning every episode into constantly needing all this gay validation.

The show The Real, everybody is overly exaggerated, The I'm so mom, you're not the only person who ever had a baby. That's not a knock at parenthood. It's knock at exploiting it. Every conversation doesn't have to fixate on just that and the others cast do the same thing with whatever there scripted role it's just so fake. Like power rangers are ninja turtles every one is suppose to only identify with one dimensional role. The full figured women acting like some desperate women who needs a man. Boasting, she has a engineering degree, she doesn't have to be doing this job, then why are you.

And on the Today Show, an anchor that seems intelligent constantly laughs like a hyena, I just have to turn the channel when she gets in the conversation. Around late May, there was some ridiculous cat fight (supposedly done in fun) on CBS morning show with O'Donnell and another anchor about being 40, who cares. Again, women against women. Charlie Rose is older than all of them put together but no body brought up his age. All these morning shows bring up age almost constantly. And the Morning talk shows and local news networks have women clawing a scratching over anchors seats, with cleavage, skin tight outfits, stilts for pumps that look impossible to walk in looking like prostitutes, but most of the men are old, bald, and and button up to the neck. The Morning show anchors are talking all over each other running in out the studio every 5 seconds looking confused and out of breath (GMA does this the most) Then all these shows try to put the camera on one or two young people even 7 year old's two make it look like they have a young audience but most of the audience is retired because that's the cohort that has the time to sit around all day. African American portrayed as unattractive, poor, pips, drug addicts, gang bangers, or anything negative. And if they get a leadership role the white character is always in power struggle with the black boss i.e. Shows like Law and order, Chicago blues, Chicago fire, paternity and divorce court, Springer and Maury, etc. Blacks are rarely positive, attractive, rich, educated, doctors, lawyers, or commander and chief. These are same roles from out of 60's!

Networks, we are tired of these dysfunctional stars trying to give us advise i.e The view, The talk, and Kathy lee is always insulting Hoda and is just out of touch with PC vernacular. One time she managed to say plumbers don't need to go to college(meaning stay blue collar all your life) and Hoda quickly cleaned it up saying yes they can if they want to.

We should at least have alternative shows with values to watch, but every show follows the same trashy format!

Networks stop trying to sell these illusions, Stop the CAT FIGHTING, and take the time to present a higher standard of writing and give women, African Americans and Christians better representation!!!!

They aired an episode with such vile acts and language that I am not sure where to begin, however suffice it to say that if showing a depiction of a person committing Sodomy and murder using every bad language in the book is not enough, then to depict the person being sodomized as a presidential candidate.....enough is enough. Even though it says adult viewers only, you know that a certain percentage of under age viewers are watching that filth. I have contacted Viacom asking them to remove that program from the air and they should fire the writers. I would like a reply as to what action you are going to take against this company.

Description

I came home early to work to find my television still on and the channel set to Comedy Central. The show that was on air at the time was South Park, a popular animated television show known for its crude humor, satire, vulgarity, profane language, and strongly suggestive themes. This show constantly makes fun of Black people, Indian people, Asian people, Native-American people, White people and multiple religions. I 100% understand that we are in the West, where making fun of the world is completely okay and in most cases, humorous. However, I would never think that an episode like this of a popular show would feature such a poor, disgusting, degrading, and disrespectful image of of the African people in the 20th Century (the episode was made in 1999). I did not catch the country these "aliens" (this is how they were referred to in the episode) originated from but, it was still horrible. The people were in dirty rags, very dark, and had what seemed to be very messy and nappy hair and they spoke with nothing but popping noises and obnoxious "beeps" and "boops". I would not think something like this would be aired in the 21st century, especially because of the times the country is going through. I do understand that the show is known for making fun of many ethnic and religious groups alike but, I respectfully ask that this particular episode be removed the network's "arsenal". Again, no hard feelings towards the network, or the show's creators, but this representation of Africans has to be left back in the 20th century.

Hello,

I'm not one to let this bother me but hearing something over and over starts to upset one.

I'm watching South Park, I'm sure you know they curse in it. It's a funny show. This particular episode I've never seen before till right now and I just wanted to see if something could be done.

Now I'm the episode the guy goes on wheel of fortune and has to guess "people who aggravate you." And shouted nigger.

In the episode everyone is in defense of black people, they even had skin heads in defense and in reality I'm sure they might be ticked . But I get there trying to make a point with this episode that words hurt and to watch what you say, but I do not think almost every other word needs to be "nigger" and "nigger guy" hearing it over and over starts to get disrespectful.

I know that the boondox show said nigger in their episodes but it was not like this. Their show was also only played 11pm- 3am maybe?

I'm 20 and hearing that word over and over I honestly couldn't believe it was allowed on tv like that. My mom even came in my room to see if she was hearing that right.

Just wanted to say something about it. Didn't know if something could be done? Bleeping it out because it's WAY overly excessive, moving to a later time. I wouldn't even want children flipping through and stopping on the channel to hear that. It's just THIS episode.

Thank you for your time!

This tv show should be removed from Google & any related links. They have gone too far.

This is the bullshit that makes me want to serve in any of the armed services to ensure this FILTH stays out of our country.

This is the bullshit that makes me want to serve in some sort of "cyber" division for this country to ensure the people falsely promoting information by meshing their own FILTH into someone elses account.

Anyone who laughs at this or lies and said they didnt laugh at this if they did once they hear the comments minutes in should be mentally checked into a hospital.

For the sake of our communities, our futures, and the next generation of kids I DEMAND this filth be removed from Google.

I would advise this company follow the supreme courts guidelines.

I started with this company in August they came out to (b) (6) to install the services however the technician had put in the wrong address of (b) (6) this issue was on going from the day I started the service all the way up until the billing of January 2018 the problem here is that I called repeatedly letting them know that I have not received any bills don't even know what it should be my first bill was $122 which is what I pay and in the. Of those four months I was disconnected at least 8 times each time they charge me $22 and every time I had to pay this I was told that they was only going to credit me twice and the additional $300 that's on my bill is for reconnection fees my entire bill is only 123 is what I agreed upon all of the other charges is not what I have agreed to they were aware they were notified and they still did not correct the problem but they want to charge me the consumer this extra $300 the biggest problem is that I have paid a bill every month that I have had this service but right now it is showing that I got a past due amount of $442 I would like to know where and no one could answer me I even got a disconnect notice for February 1st of $244 sorry $248 and I would like to know how again I called and not got any answers actually was told that they was not going to do anything to correct this problem was even charged $50 for a tech visit which never happened as the tech went to the wrong address 13802 I have tried endlessly to correct this problem and unfortunately I'm not getting any resolution especially when I was told that they was not going to fix this bill I need some help as I don't believe this is a fair practice to charge your client

$300 plus $50 for Tech visit and then will not credit the account to make this billing correct So Not only was the billing incorrect but so was the address in the beginning

Description

I cancelled satellite television service with DirecTV in February of 2011, due to continued technical problems with the service that were never resolved. Before canceling, I called DirecTV customer service at least 4 or 5 times (possibly more) in order to get these issues resolved. I also monitored 3rd party support forums online where other DirecTV customers discussed their experiences, and found that I was not the only customer experiencing these issues.

Service Problems included:

1.) A black horizontal line that would flash on the upper 1/3rd of the screen for a brief moment during some shows, most frequently during shows like "Family Guy" or "South Park". It may have happened on other shows/channels as well, but was most noticeable on animated programs. I called a number of times and spoke to customer service about this issue and the problem was never resolved.

2.) Static in the audio that would intermittently occur, like the static you would hear when an old TV was not tuned to a proper channel. The normal audio would cut out and static would occur for a few seconds at random times.

My main complaints with the service were due to the technical issues I experienced, but in addition to the technical problems, there were also pricing problems, because what was advertised was not what I received. I had originally signed up for a 12 month introductory price, which I understood would increase after the initial 12 month period, but the price increase that was advertised during the offer, was not the price during my second year. The price advertised was supposed to be $54.99 in the second year, but was instead increased to $63.99. I feel this was a blatant "bait and switch" tactic, which DirecTV has been well known to do in the past.

I have received numerous collection notices and phone calls over the years, and I do not feel I owe them anything. I returned their leased equipment and cancelled the service because they failed to provide me with a quality service at the price that was advertised and therefore breached the contract between us. I would like DirecTV to cease all collection efforts and remove any negative marks against my credit rating.

Ticket #: 2251623 - Inappropriate sexual and violent content

Name of TV Program: Steve Harvey

Description

Dear FCC,

I grew up in the seventies and eighties watching shows that my parents didnÃ¢Â€Â™t have to worry about. The most Ã¢Â€Â˜outrageousÃ¢Â€Â™ show on at the time was ThreeÃ¢Â€Â™s Company. Things have really changed since then.

IÃ¢Â€Â™m disappointed that nothing was really done by your organization, and I am really appalled at what I see on TV now. There seems to be nothing to watch except reality shows with people cursing, having sex and just plain acting like the worst people in society, with rudeness being thing now. They bleep out the cursing, but itÃ¢Â€Â™s obvious what they are saying. I noticed that kids today, not to mention a lot of adults are much ruder than ever before because they are watching these shows on a daily basis. IÃ¢Â€Â™ve heard people talking excitedly about some reality show that they watched, and parents are watching them with their kids for Ã¢Â€Â˜entertainment.Ã¢Â€Â™ Commercials such as his and hers lubricants, and about erectile dysfunction, which are shown in the middle of the afternoon are so inappropriate.

I can barely watch a show now without it containing extreme sexual content and violence at any time of the day when children and teenagers with impressionable minds who can take it all in and get a screwed up view, and sex between early teens is now all the rage. I just saw an ad for an upcoming TV show about kids getting pregnant, which is celebrated and kids are copying that because they think itÃ¢Â€Â™s cool.

Mike and Molly is about nothing but their sexual relationship, Two and a half men, one of the worst in sexual content on television, The Family Guy, Dr. Oz (with a whole show about Orgasms), Friends, Ellen (asking someone if they Ã¢Â€Â˜did the nastyÃ¢Â€Â™ with their boyfriend), Law and Order SVU (which I saw just yesterday) asking a boy how many times a day he masturbates, South Park, Two broke Girls, and on and on have nothing but sexual content which is not appropriate for kids, not to mention that they are not funny. The movie, The Sweetest Thing (on yesterday afternoon) American Pie, Bad Teacher (all on regular TV) and other movies are pretty much the same thing. I started watching The Magicians on Netflix and it was so disgusting that I stopped watching it, but it is coming back to TV on 9:00. No kid or teen goes to bed at 9:00. Just today I was watching the Steve Harvey show and he told parents to send their kids into another room so they could discuss if sex toys should be brought into the bedroom, he then went into how he uses baby oil when heÃ¢Â€Â™s having sex. Most parents are working during the day leaving their kids to watch whatever they want. If he knew it was inappropriate, then it should not have been on his show, which was at 1:00 in the afternoon.

IÃ¢Â€Â™m wondering what if anything the FCC is really doing about this. I wrote the you last year to complain about the show, Two Broke Girls, told you the exact day, time and channel they were on and what the content was, and your response was to ask me the same thing that I already told you, so it seems that you are doing nothing either. I canÃ¢Â€Â™t watch every show and tell you about what the content is because it would take me a year, as pretty much everything is about extreme sexual content and violence. It is up to the FCC to look into this by watching shows and actually doing something about it because you already know what is happening. IÃ¢Â€Â™m thinking of all the recent school shootings, which did not happen when I was growing up, and people try to convince you that TV, movies, and video games filled with extreme violent and sexual content has nothing to do with the violence and sexual aggression in the real world, and these people are in complete denial because of course it does! Today kids are having sex as young as 11 years old and itÃ¢Â€Â™s because of what they are seeing.

I would really like to see something done to prevent the sexual and violence content being seen by kids. What is your plan for this in the future?

I am no prude when it comes to adult programs. However placing South Park into a a 6:30 time slot during a weekly slot or any time slot before 9 pm is absolutely irresponsible !

My 9 year old daughter miss-entered a channel 143 is CC and meant to enter 142 she thank goodness had on her headphones and was playing a game Fire... My wife and I were like why is SP on now.. It was full of chefs master-bating onto food and serving it to patrons. It was boogers and cum. The chefs had their pants down naked asses out and master bating. This is far beyond the MA-TV rating. This is porn! This is programming that shouldn't be on at 6:30 pm. We thank goodness were in the living room with my child at the time this happened we were appalled to see such a thing, what is Comedy Central thinking ?

I am currently on hold with my cable provider and plan to contact the FCC.

City/State/Zip: Charlotte, North Carolina 28211

Name of TV Program:

Network: Channel:

Description

I have the AT&T cable and internet bundle service in the amount of $85 monthly that is paid by my apartment complex The Encore South Park, through my rent payments to the complex. The comlex pays AT&T directly through the AT&T community plan. Since the startup of services in October 2017, AT&T began to bill me $5+ dollars for broadcast television surcharge, regulatory video cost recover charge, and NC state telecommunications sales taxes. I called AT&T and informed them that they need to bill the apartment complex for these charges as I am not liable to pay this fee since we are on a community negoitiated plan paid to ATT by the complex. The first representative put me on hold and then stated he will credit the fee and I should not have the problem again. November comes and I'm billed again, so I called again and it was a repeat cycle. December comes around and that representative says the apartment complex takes about 1 year before they pick up the charges so that is why I'm still being billed. I stopped calling for about 2 months, then my bill shows a total of every month beginning from October. I called AT&T and the rep stated that I would have to call in every month until The Encore South Park pays the fee. I stated that I will not be calling in monthly as this is not the consumer's responsibility to do so. AT&T need to resolve the issue by contacting the appropriate authority. On May 11th, I received a voice mail and a letter in the mail stating my services will be suspended for non payment on May 15th. I called and spoke to a rep and after explaining this entire issue AGAIN, he stated he would stop the suspension and fix this. I warned him that if this continues I would file multiple consumer complaints. This is beyond unacceptable, and I'm tire of dealing with this. I returned home on Sunday, May 27th to a blue screen on my tv stating an urgent message to pay my bill online or call 1-800-288-2020 to pay bill. I have no cable and my internet is barely working. I am so upset to have to deal with this inconsiderate and unethical practice from AT&T. Not only do I not have cable right now, but the compay was closed on Sunday and is closed today for the Memorial Day holiday. I will be out of cable for days, and will have to take off from work just so this lack of a decent company could come out to restore my services for their internal control mistake. AT&T need to fix this immediately and should be audited for these backdoor charges they are trying to subdue on me. I've asked the apartment complex and they are aware this is happening and stated it is an internal issue with AT&T. I have yet to receive a resolution and am beyond upset that this is something a consumer has to deal with and for this extended amount of time. If it is up to me I would not have signed up for the AT&T service, but is a requirement by this apartment complex.

said he is a titty loving bleeped i believe it was nigga then a show called Wonder Showzen which had a segment about soldiers form nam and now are unemployed with the words got damn it whore bitch and more then they aired a segment called we went to a farm which had offensive cont tent the parents went to a tea party and swapped each others wife's then the see the cows which they think are reincarnated Hindus then we see the baby cow being feed by the mom one kid says My Priest which is obviously a joke about pedophilia and another kid says he practiced milking a cow in the bathroom implantation for masturbation and a joke about starving African kids eating wheat

Then they aired a film called Superbad about kids wating to score it had offensive cotent like for example you gave 3 hand jobs and i gave 4 blows but nobody's counting and a kid drawing dongs blurred out and the whole programming was honestly disturbing then a Family Guy episode ended it with a segment about the dog Brian supporting weed and a episode about the dad finding his real father which had Mother Teresa getting wasted and called a bitch after that was some old fashion The Honeymooners the content was obviously adult and this should not be aired at this early or on local TV. On September 23, 2020, at 2:00pm, the Comedy Central channel aired an episode of South Park called "God God Go I & XII". During the episode, two naked cartoon men were having anal sex. I was surprised this was aired in the middle of the day when children can watch it. Why is this allowed?

the MLB app, as I signed up for, is supposed to give access to all games except local blackouts. 1. can we eliminate this local blackout policy? it's pretty outdated and doesn't really make sense in a streaming world. 2. they are now blocking access to games that are NOT blackout games. Example, last night's Cubs game - you have to watch it on Apple+. today's game, you have to watch it on Peacock.

So they're now sub-leasing games to other providers.. so now consumers have to pay for even more apps to watch what we already paid for. This is out of control and should be stopped!

South Park did the same thing - all episodes went to HBO Max, but NEW episodes are on Paramount+.

This is not serving the customers, just a giant money grab!

Triggering South Park commercial only shows a little boy being RAPED BY A MACHINE WHILE HIS PARENTS WATCH! I was eating dinner when I first saw the commercial when I started crying and almost threw up. This is disturbing, inappropriate, triggering and everyone involved including the network should be sued. Animated or not, the sole purpose was promoting the show through child rape. This could cause a major mental health crisis in someone who was just trying to watch a simple show like The Office. I have already cancelled almost all streaming services due to triggering content but this is foul. They are forcing a rape scene in your face without giving time to avoid the triggering content. Using rape, child rape at that to advertise anything is trifling and has to be dealt with. Someone should be taking legal action against this.

The commercial for the new season of South Park has a scene from an old episode of the character Butters getting violated with no warning. It has nothing to do with the new season, it is disturbing, and it was shown during an old sit-com rerun of the Fresh Prince of Bel Air on MTV2, a channel other than 'comedy' central. Just had to officially vent, though nothing seems likely to happen, as it is triggering, unnecessary shock value, and shouldn't be in a commercial that can be seen anywhere and without warning.

Description

First, although I provided my email address please just follow up on this situation and regulate it while observing that to disclose my personal information is a violation of my right to privacy and to participate in the functioning of our government as I should without reprimand either socially or otherwise. I am totally law abiding and also have a clean record, totally mentally and physically healthy, also victim of a variety of crimes which have destroyed me and my upward mobility.

The DOJ's website does confirm this information, as well as census data and statistics that bolster what I am saying. The native Coloradan is somewhat of a very toxic and aggressive personality type similar to an (b) (6) character. Much of the aggression and sinister acts carried out in Colorado as evidenced by the sources listed are both inspired by and justified by the presence of toxic and horrible acts that are played out on the show. For instance, in one episode Cartman kills someone's family and feeds it to someone in their chili. That's just an example. I'm not saying this is happening every single time but with the level of drugs and alcohol as high as it is in our society, also given the level of horrible and malicious, strictly illegal crimes taking place, one would think this type of show would be analyzed carefully and that crimes would be connected between these two, connecting the dots here. I've personally been very careful over the course of my life to never be worried or upset about tv at all, and still am not but I have heard enough personal accounts of sinister acts being carried out by people saying "what? It was on South Park. That's funny." Afterwards, getting high fives in bars from native Coloradans which they dominate. I've noticed this show is hilarious and I did like it before, but if you actually investigate some of the restaurants for instance, one of them called the "perfect poodle" or something like that, or some of the more sinister acts carried out here in Colorado and elsewhere which are recognized by the DOJ to be a textbook conspiracy, you'll find for me to bring this up is very connected with reality. If you appreciate humor, at a time like this to not pick up on these trends and vulnerability from an unregulated source of expression, which should be benign in every way, would be sort of delusional in itself, thinking "la, la, la. Everything is wonderful in Colorado." Honestly, it isn't, and worse yet there is no governmental control of the crimes as hand even given the overwhelming data which supports this fact. I know these types of crimes have existed since the creation of the HUAC, and to think people would fail to recognize that they could realize this is a viable way to influence people to act maliciously, or that they might have forgotten about this past crime trend or failed to look back and say "let's try that," would be very immature. Committing crimes like a wild bill hickok is actually considered very Coloradan and you would think an email like this would fall within your professional and civic responsibility to react, if not right this second maybe on the phone later or by even creating a law or act that prevents this crime wave from continuing to fester. There is one episode where all the good and bad forces of the cartoon world clash in a giant battle and really I hope we don't get to that point.

Description

Years ago, this channel was worth watching. As years have passed, the programs are downright subpar. Most of what they show now is soft porn during family hour. You get men spanking women, dildos shown on the couples' programs, with broadcasting a man drinking urine and spreading gonorrhea. Another man is disabled from getting shot due to drug dealing and drug using. Women cannot have sex so they become violent where they destroy cars, break in, get drunk all the time, throw rings in bushes, climbing fences to trespass, hit men, yell and scream, steal passwords. Domestic violence is illegal and punishable. Exploiting people with Tourette's so you laugh at someone with tics? That is cruel, mean, what we teach children not to do. Laughing at them and making fun of them is bullying. Then you have Christine squealing like a pig in a painted on wedding dress with new husband. Marriage should be taken seriously, not made a mockery of. Relationships cannot be violent or someone goes to jail. TLC making this "normal" is wrong. If I had kids, I would not want them seeing dildos and spanking and soft porn on TV or walk in on it in my house. That smut should be on TV on pay per view or 2 am when kids are asleep like what they did to South Park that was nowhere near this level of nastiness and disgusting script writing. Gonorrhea should not be advertised, applauded, viewed on TV at any point in time with Loren bragging about his leaking dick. This whole channel needs censorship.

It is not good for people with mental health disorders to watch or those with violent tendencies that will use violence in real life since it's okay on TV. Violence and bullying is never okay. Exploiting people with disorders is inhumane on all counts.

It was straight up a slanderous attach on the dually elected President of the United States and the ending was basically pornographic in nature. America is in a state of moral decay and no matter what party you support, filth such as the 7/23/2025 South Park episode should not be allowed to be aired. In order to stem this tide of moral decay, at some point, we as a nation need to start holding people and networks accountable for their behavior. If that episode did not violate any standard, then we no longer have any standards in the US.

Dear Sir or Ma'am at FCC, I am a proud father of three little kids ages 7, 3 and 2 years old. This show, which shows up as a cartoon (even reruns on non cable tv) is indecent, pornographic, obscene and explicit including language, sexual content, drugs, obscene humor etc etc. If it was a movie it would be rated R in theaters. Inevitably, this show makes its way on cable and non cable TV as well. This TV show should be banned from TV. My 7 year old was skipping channels one time and stopped on this show, somehow even knew what it was and said, oh this show is bad, I cant watch it. Please remove this show from cable TV immediately. It's particularly dangerous because it shows up as a cartoon and can easily be exposed to kids. Please remove the show from cable news networks, and disallow it from being aired on fox or any other regular station. Kids are being exposed. Thank you.

This is the WORST display of indecency and disrespect that I have EVER seen on a regular cable channel. This garbage should IMMEDIATELY be removed from view so that innocent children will not see it. In addition, it is NOT funny and is TOTAL disrespect for the leader of our country!!!

After the end of the South Park episode on 1/9/2026, a clip came on of a man made to look just like our President as he was running through the desert. He then proceeded to take all of his clothes off and fell on to the sand on his back. It then depicted our President to raise his head and then it showed his penis popping up. Then a screen came up and referenced a website that read HeTrumpedUS.com.

The credits proceeded on with the normal South Park end of show.

This is DISGUSTING and UNACCEPTABLE that this show would disparage our great President Trump, or any president for that matter! In addition, to show such a vile clip at this time of the morning when young children could be watching. Description

I was watching tv while eating a sandwich when a commercial for venus razors comes on. In the commercial it literally shows a woman shaving her pubic hair. Seriously? How does a commercial like that get cleared for air, I don't want to see a woman shaving her pubes while i'm trying to eat. Would you want to watch someone shave their pubes while you eat? Like I know it's not THAT big a deal, but it's still nasty to see. Also I have never once even considered filing a complaint to the FCC before this, but that was disgusting. Also the channel was 249-1, it will not let me put that in as the channel.

Description

South Park, aired on Comedy Central (xfinity) has some of the worst closed captioning I've ever seen. It's like they're not even trying. There's random words and letters and none of it makes sense. It makes it very difficult to understand the whole show. It's like they're doing it on purpose or something. For an example, season 11, episode 6 aired from 1:30-2pm (PST) on Tuesday March 10th, 2026. Comedy Central channel 760. The picture I uploaded shows an example. The subtitle should have said "being with another woman before?" Instead it says "being with antofore ?her woman before?"

Description

Hello, I would like to file a complaint against the shows South Park, Trailer Park Boys, and Swearnet. These shows are as bad as pornographic material and are absolutely appalling. I just saw an episode of South Park, called Tweak x Craig, where everyone, including the government, tried to force two young boys to have gay sex. The episode had pornographic images of the two boys. Imagine what would happen to kids if they went to these channels. They would think that they were cool and try to act them out on others. Trailer Park Boys is even worse, where three men sit at a table and sexually assault the viewer with sexy talk. Swearnet is by the same makers as Trailer Park Boys. I was completely disturbed by these shows and will be for a long time. If you want to contact me about my complaint, you can at my phone number, (b) (6) or email, (b) (6) Please try to fix these shows, so we can show the United States of America is actually a good place to live.
